USVI Soccer Association Senior Women National Team Prepare for CONCACAF W Qualifiers

The US Virgin Islands Soccer Association Lady Dashing Eagles will host the Antigua and Barbuda Football Association Senior Women's team for two International Tier 1 friendly matches on February 10th and 13th 2022 at their Bethlehem Soccer Complex (BSC) in St. Croix. Both teams are optimistic as they begin their campaign to represent the Concacaf region at the ninth edition of the FIFA Women's World Cup, which will be jointly hosted by Australia and New Zealand in 2023.

The Lady Dashing Eagles will kick off their first round of the Concacaf W Qualifiers during the February 2022 FIFA International match window. Following the warmup friendly matches, the USVI WNT will travel to Guatemala for their first match of the regional qualifiers, on February 16, 2022, against Guatemala at the Estadio Pensativo. The Lady Dashing Eagles return to St. Croix and play Costa Rica at the Bethlehem Soccer Complex on February 20, 2022, at 6:00PM. Group stage qualifiers will continue April 6, 2022, away at Curacao and at home at BSC on April 12, 2022, against St. Kitts and Nevis.

Tickets for all matches must be purchased on eventbrite.com. Use the following link.

USVISA will not have tickets available at the venue. USVI Department of Health Covid Guidelines pertaining to attendance at sporting events will be enforced. Attendees should be vaccinated or present a negative COVID19 test, wear masks always and practice appropriate social distancing.

USVISA conducted a Winter Training Camp for the Senior Women in the Tampa Fl., during December 2021. Head Coach Jorge Zavala came away from the camp with great expectations of the team. He stated, he is pleased with the past months of preparations and is looking forward to the matches that will be challenging, but an opportunity for the USVI Senior Women to accomplish remarkable things.
